

Important information

EAF Limited and ServiceSource Europe Limited are changing.

From 1st July 2009 EAF Limited and ServiceSource Europe Limited will become Acal Supply Chain Limited in phase 1 of the group rebranding programme.

In order to cause the minimum of disruption to suppliers and customers the rebranding schedule is being phased in conjunction with the software and system integration across the group.

The rebranding of ATM Parts Co Limited, CPI Limited and EAF GmbH will be following in future phases.

Current company name and branding	Company name and branding from 1 st July 2009	Changes to legal entity
		From the 1 st July 2009 EAF UK Limited will become Acal Supply Chain Limited
		From the 1 st July 2009 ServiceSource Europe Limited will become Acal Supply Chain Limited
		ATM Parts Co Limited will remain a separate legal entity but report into Acal Supply Chain Holdings
		Computer Parts International Limited will remain a separate legal entity but report into Acal Supply Chain Holdings
		EAF GmbH will remain a separate legal entity but report into Acal Supply Chain Holdings

SUPPLIER ANNOUNCEMENT

The migration onto a single ERP platform has already commenced and inventory levels and provisioning data is now visible across the group.

Our goal is to coordinate our purchasing management and consolidate our supplier database.

What effect will this have for our Suppliers?

Initially there will be very few changes and from a relationship perspective we will continue to work extremely closely with our supplier base.

Slight modifications will be taking place upon our documentation as we introduce a level of consistency to the purchase order formats and our trading terms and conditions. We will be circulating the new company registration and payment details under separate cover.

This is an exciting time for both us and our suppliers. We will be leveraging our combined strength to maximise our sales opportunities with current and new customers, and this will have a positive effect on the business currently passed to our supplier base.

If you require any further information or need any clarification on the above information please do not hesitate to contact us on the following number:

Tel: 0118 912 0055

Thank you for your time

www.acalsupplychain.com